

✓ How will we know when we're successful?

Preparing for Adulthood

The overwhelming majority of students successfully

1. Achieve a broad range of appropriate accreditation outcomes as they progress towards ambitious 'Preparing for Adulthood' EHC Plan outcomes
2. progress from Key Stages 4 and 5 with clear evidence over time that progression leads to higher levels of study and/or employment
3. participate in at least one successful residential school journey, work experience placement, and external sporting/public performance event

Visible Learning

1. Teachers systematically evaluate their impact, using research, data and professional development to improve the quality of teaching and learning
2. Learners progressing from Key Stage 2-4 match or exceed previous 'outstanding' cohorts despite accreditation changes, and maintain or increase their rate of progress in Maths and English
3. Learners consistently demonstrate a range of visible learning dispositions, in particular being 'assessment capable'
4. Teachers are confident in their baseline assessments of learners and use data regularly to evaluate progress and to reshape their own practice in light of it

Well-Being

1. Evidence that all students' voices are developed, captured, and responded to.
2. Staff awareness of mental health issues consistently leads to appropriate support
3. Attendance is significantly higher than special school averages and comparable to secondary mainstream, with minimal unauthorised absence
4. High staff morale evidenced through positive engagement in and feedback on CPD, line management, appraisal, wellbeing events and surveys

Parent/Carer Priorities

The large majority of parents/carers report that they are well-informed on what their child is learning, how well they are doing and how to help them at home

Student Priorities

The Smart School Council priorities are systematically responded to, their evaluations of progress are positive, and improvements are achieved in a timely manner

External Evaluations and Wider Impact

1. Quality of Education remains outstanding and continues to improve (SIP/Ofsted)
2. Resources are deployed efficiently and effectively to achieve school priorities
3. High-quality safeguarding and SEN processes are externally quality-assured
4. Effective practice in leadership; teaching & learning; interventions and SEN systems is systematically shared within and beyond the school
